

Midwest Pool Management Family.

Together we are experiencing unprecedented times, and the COVID-19 situation is changing rapidly every day. On behalf of everyone at Midwest Pool Management, we want you to know that first and foremost, we are thinking of you and your families' well-being. Taking care of yourselves, and each other, is what is most important right now. Out of an abundance of caution, all of our aquatic facilities have closed until further notice at the discretion of our client partners.

We are looking forward to and continue working toward getting your swimming pools prepared for re-opening in every way we can that conforms to the necessary precautions provided by the CDC and mandated by our Federal, State and local health authorities. The safety and well-being of our employees, clients and patrons remain our top priority.

As the spread of COVID-19 and its impact on our communities continues to evolve, Midwest Pool Management will monitor events as they unfold and will follow the recommendations of national, as well as local health officials.

In preparation for the upcoming season our work outdoors is ongoing. We are beginning the process of turning on water to the facilities this week. Shortly, thereafter we will be draining and cleaning pools. Our staff will be adhering to CDC protocols to protect themselves and others from the virus including socially distancing themselves from each other.

This is a challenging time for everyone, and we encourage our employees, clients and patrons to take necessary precautions to stay healthy by following the guidance of the CDC and local health authorities. <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/prepare/>

Please know that we will continue to prepare for the re-opening of our indoor facilities as well as opening day for our outdoor ones in every way we can without putting our employees or public health in jeopardy. This pandemic and it's restrictions will have an end, and we will be prepared to get the swimming pools open as quickly as possible. We know that lap swimmers, swim teams, exercise groups, children and their parents are looking forward to spending time with friends at the swimming pools. That's where so many memories are made.

Sincerely,
Midwest Pool Management
